A lot of what we see is not necessarily true, and what we are allowed to see is what our artists are allowed to show us. What our people and their governments allow us to see is what they allow us to see. Art is the force of change, and it can change a way of seeing the world for the better or worse. I don't believe in any form of an artist superiority, only in the artist's ability to understand and convey his point of view. Remember that words are biased, and we shouldn't be too ashamed of this. To speak well is a great art form."Q: Virtualization on Google Cloud Platform I am new to Google Cloud Platform and I am confused to understand what are the tools & technologies that exist to run (a) virtual environments to develop new apps (b) production environment (deploying applications on Google Cloud Platform) There is no way to install virtualization tools like on VMWare and Xen etc. The way Google's UI works is based on Panels(like sublime editor etc). Not all tools are available. I could not found any docs on f678ea9f9e
